Tipsy Driver Options Cut

Former San Diego County Supervisor Robert C. Cozens was named director of the California Department of Motor Vehicles recently by Governor Reagan.

He is carrying a fine reputation as a forthright administrator to his new post.

It was only a matter of a few weeks before he showed that DMV regulations regarding highway safety was going to be backed with DMV muscle.

His posture on the state's implied consent law is believed to be a precursor of the heading up DMV. It is to get.

This is his initial communique.

A woman contested a six months' "implied consent law" suspension of her driver's license by the Department of Motor Vehicles. She had refused to permit a test of her sobriety after the car she was driving erratically was stopped by a police officer.

Her defense: she had been too drunk to understand the consequences of refusing the test.

To her — and to many others — losing one's driving privilege for six months was apparently a fate more to be feared than a drunk driving conviction.

Why not? If a person is found guilty of driving while "under the influence" a judge has an option of imposing a jail term, a fine, or simply probation.

DMV officials have no choice under the law.

They MUST suspend for six months anyone's driving privilege after getting a peace officer's sworn statement that the person was arrested on suspicion of driving "under the influence" and that the person refused to allow an alcohol test of either his blood, breath or urine.

The law gets its name from the assumption that, when a motorist drives a car on the highway, he implies consent to the blood alcohol tests.

The defendant can ask for a hearing, but it can deal only with the facts at the time of arrest — not with extenuating circumstances. Whether one was too intoxicated to understand instructions or not intoxicated at all is entirely beside the point at such a hearing.

That anyone should refuse the test if he were convinced he wasn't drunk is, of course, unlikely. The tests have shown in many cases that the person was not under the influence of alcohol.

One of California's newest laws spells out the "presumptive drunk" concentration of alcohol in the blood as one tenth of one percent while the level of non-intoxication is presumed to be half that quantity. A social drinker could be on his way home from a party well below the intoxication level, depending on his physique as well as how much and when he had eaten and inebriated.

Generally speaking, it's the person who has had too many drinks and knows it who refuses a test when it's offered. The consequences of his refusal may not really sink in until he has sobered up.

Until the possibility stares them in the face, many persons don't face up to the implications of getting along without wheels for six months. It's too late then. To anyone who drives a car or a truck for a living, a six-month suspension comes close to total disaster.

A string of court cases stretches back to October 1966, when the implied consent law went on the books.

Attorneys have shown enormous ingenuity — and their clients have spent huge sums — in their efforts to evade the disabling sentence: "Don't get behind a steering wheel for half a year."

Since the inception of the law, motorists up tight against a DMV license suspension have taken the department to court 734 times. In 153 of these cases, the courts overruled the department. In 411 cases the department's action was upheld. The balance are still pending.

Reprieves have been won on technicalities and specific circumstances. But the law has emerged from the courts intact. It is constitutional. It is a valid exercise of police power when properly enforced.

Being "too drunk to refuse" a test, or "too drunk to understand instructions" have been thrown out by the courts as defenses against suspension under the law. One by one, most other challenges to the law have been struck down.

A drunk driving suspect cannot, for example, insist on calling his doctor or attorney before taking one of the required tests. When he is warned that anything he says may be held against him, he must also be told that the right against self-incrimination does not extend to the right to refuse the test. (He may not refuse to be fingerprinted, either.) The suspect cannot insist on taking all three tests or none. (He may elect which one to take and may then take the other two at his own expense.) The suspect who refuses to submit to a test but changes his mind later is also out of luck.

Since the law has been on the books, peace officers have filed 37,576 "implied consent law" statements with the Department of Motor Vehicles. These have resulted in 32,069 suspensions from driving.

These figures might lead someone into thinking the odds are 5,507 in 37,576 to escape suspension. Not really. At earlier stages of enforcement, police and DMV unfamiliarity with proper procedures in making the law stick resulted in many of these forfeitures. But now that most of the defense gambits have been tested in court, and enforcement techniques have been purged of technical errors, the odds for escaping a suspension have decreased.

Last year DMV issued suspensions to more than 10,000 drivers who had been identified by police, highway patrol and others as having refused to take inebriation tests.

That's an average of 200 suspensions a week. If you've been drinking, take a cab — or be ready to take the test.

Palm 'Underground' Hearing Set For Tues.

The County Board of Supervisors will conduct a hearing Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. concerning undergrounding of utilities along Palm st. in Lemon Grove from Imperial to Troy.

The underground district will be 300 feet wide and all utility lines within the district will be buried.

The lines parallel with Palm st. will be installed at the expense of the utility firms. So will the lines to the house-meter. Property owners will provide the trench from the road to the residence and will hook up the service at the meter.

The undergrounding will be done when Palm st. is widened in the fall. District residents approved the project last year at a public meeting at Palm Junior high school.

The hearing will be in room 358 County Administration building.

FLAG TO FLY — A California State flag will fly in Vietnam because a Lemon Grove youth was proud of his state. Gary Halvorson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Halvorson, of 7836 Deborah place, asked his parents to obtain a state flag to be installed in the office where he is assigned at Phu Loi, 17 miles from Saigon.

The Halvorsons asked State Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh for the flag — and Assemblyman Deddeh (center) delivered it to the Halvorsens in person. He also supplied a certificate attesting that the flag had been flown over the state capital.

"These youngsters are giving too much of themselves not to be heard when they ask for something," Deddeh said. Gary was graduated from Mt. Miguel high school in 1965 and attended Grossmont college.

Monte Vista Sites Eyed by Committee

Grossmont College site selection committee members last weekend eyed the half-dozen possible sites on their list, but postponed any decisions.

Less than half of the committee toured the sites, as rain threatened a cancellation. The rest of the committee will tour the sites Saturday morning, and a decision will probably be made soon after that.

The committee is sorting out a location for a proposed second campus for Grossmont College — a campus expected to house 10,000 students by the year 2000.

The committee is looking for 150 acres at the right price.

Among locations under consideration are a pair of parcels on the Monte Vista ranch property, recently purchased by developers.

The developers plan to use the land for a total community, expected to house more than 25,000 persons in 10 years.

The two locations are considered choice sites by the committee.

A visual look at some of the sites under consideration may have ruled them out as possibilities.

Included were a parcel between Crest and Harbison Canyon and another parcel east of Lakeside.

The site selection committee will base its recommendation on these criteria: How close the property is to the center of population in the Grossmont Junior College District; availability of water and sewage facilities, public utilities and fire and police protection; environment; size and cost of property; topography and type of soil.

Spin Inn Ripped Off For $1500

A substantial robbery at the Spin Inn highlighted the week's crime news, as reported at the Sheriff's Office.

A thief broke into the bar, at 3645 Imperial ave., in Lemon Grove, and removed $1500. The owner reported missing $1300 in large bills and $200 of smaller bills and coins.

The robbery occurred between 2 and 5:15 a.m. on January 12.

Other robberies: Eight rifles and their cases, valued at approximately $815, were taken from the residence of David Pestcoe, 7156 San Miguel in Lemon Grove. The robbery occurred the night of January 10.

Mt. Miguel High School reported that a 16 millimeter projector had been taken from the school during Christmas vacation. The projector was valued at $215.

Guns, ammunition and costume jewelry worth an estimated $235 were taken from Houston Sorrells, 7238 Rosemary in Lemon Grove. The goods turned up missing between 9 a.m. and 10:30 p.m. on January 12.

Watches and jewelry totaling an estimated $267, were reported missing by Glen L. Straw, 8170 Lincoln st. in Lemon Grove. A thief apparently broke into the house between 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. on January 13.

Spring Valley Brothers Charged With Murder

Four persons, including two Spring Valley brothers, were arrested Monday morning in connection with the fatal stabbing of an Alpine man.

Charges were brought against the four, three of which were suspected of murder in the death of Richard Michael Knapp, 21, of Alpine, and with assault to commit murder in an alleged attack on a Santee man.

Thomas Lester Neiswonger, 19, a mechanic, and James Beverly Neiswonger Jr., a mechanic, both of 9239 Vista dr. in Spring Valley, were arrested and charged with the murder.

Also charged was David Edmond Caudillo, 24, of San Diego. An advertising salesman, Winnie Alice Shipp, 40, of San Diego, was arrested and charged with being an accessory for allegedly harboring a fugitive — Caudillo. The stabbing occurred Sunday morning at the Canyon Inn, 550 Harbison Canyon rd., according to Sheriff's deputies. The incident reportedly followed a brawl caused by a pool game argument.

Investigators said Knapp was allegedly constrained by the two brothers while he was stabbed with a hunting knife by Caudillo.

Knapp was rushed to El Cajon Hospital after the 2 a.m. incident, but he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Sheriff's deputies said Knapp suffered numerous stab wounds, including two in the chest and one in the throat, the major wounds.

The Santee man, Raymond Robert Rix, 20, allegedly tried to break up the fight, but suffered knife wounds in doing so. He was treated and released at El Cajon Valley Hospital.

Witnesses told officers the fight began when Rix was struck with a motorcycle chain. Workers there said that law enforcement officers had been called, and the fight stopped temporarily, officers said.

It began again and Knapp was stabbed, said the officers.

The two brothers were picked up by Sheriff's deputies and police at their Spring Valley home at 2 a.m. Monday, while Caudillo was taken into custody an hour later outside the residence of the woman suspect.

Detectives Robert V. Ring and Jack Corindia investigated the affair, leading to the subsequent arrests.

Investigators said the three male suspects are members of a motorcycle club called "The Unknowns."

Planning Committee To Meet, Organize

A committee representing Lemon Grove may soon be attending meetings of the County Commission to make known the desires of the people.

Plans for the committee were revealed at last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting. Originators of the plan are the Lemon Grove Association and the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Committee.

A representative of the groups advised the Chamber that a letter is being prepared to call a mass meeting for the purpose of organizing the committee.

The proposal is an offshoot of the failure of the County to take any position action to better conditions in Lemon Grove.

The Chamber of Commerce mentioned the joint meeting some time ago between representatives of the city and of the County Planning Commission. At that time the County group acted as if action was imminent. Now it is revealed that the group will finish projects in Alpine in April and at that time will present a proposal to the County Commissioners for aid to Lemon Grove.

Even then the aid will be supervisory with Lemon

Grove expected to do all the work toward improving conditions. The C of C stressed the need for the citizens of Lemon Grove to take action without delay.

At the Chamber luncheon, held at the Burning T Steak Ranch, presentation of trophies for the Christmas Home Decorating Contest were made.

Earl Kirshner, 7458 Tweed, was given the Sweepstakes Trophy; Mr. and Mrs. George Johns, 1763 Primera took first place; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCray, 1862 Costada, second; and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Simpson, third.

The Chamber announced the addition of 13 new members in the past month.

They also voted to renew membership in the United States Chamber of Commerce and decided against membership in the State organization.

Brief mention was also made of the coming Lemon Grove Old Time Days, May 21, 22 and 23.

Jim Dorman, chairman of the committee, announced the need for greater merchant, service club and citizen participation. Last year the Old Time Days Parade attracted over 100 entries and more are expected this year.

The honored seniors will compete with others in the State for the Governor's Trophy awarded to the Outstanding Teenager of each state.

Each of the fifty State seniors will then be eligible for one of two National Outstanding Teenagers of America awards and college scholarships.

According to District officials, "one of the primary goals of the program is to bring to the attention of the American people the positive achievements and attributes of today's young people."

The Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to honoring, inspiring and encouraging young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America.

Plans For Gifted Set

A committee planning breakfast was held January 2 at the Hilton Inn to formalize plans for the forthcoming eighth annual conference of the California Association of the Gifted to be held at the Hilton Inn February 6 and 7.

Featured speakers for the conference will be Dr. Richmond Barbour, associate superintendent, student services division, San Diego City Schools; Sen. Clair Burgener of the California State Senate; and Dr. Paul Saltman, provost, University of California at San Diego. In addition, many notable personalities throughout the state will conduct a variety of workshops throughout the conference.

Registration will take place between the hours of 3 and 8 p.m., February 6. You may register at the hotel or receive advance registration by writing or calling Dr. Davis C. Wright, director of exceptional child services, San Diego Unified, 4100 Normal st., San Diego, California 92103, 298-4681, ext. 494.

Course To Begin

The Grossmont Adult School announces a course in typewriter repair to be offered during the spring semester at Mount Miguel High School. It will be held beginning February 2 on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. according to Coordinator of Vocational Education, Pat Wheelock. High school students or adults are eligible for the class.

"This class will be funded by the Regional Occupational Program which will pay the cost for teachers and materials for the course. Satisfactory completion of the course will qualify the student for a position in office equipment repair," said Wheelock.

"In talking to several San Diego firms we found that there is a large demand for qualified office equipment repairmen which prompted us to offer the course and seek outside funding for it," Wheelock noted.

For more information about the class, contact Grossmont Adult School at 465-3131, EXT. 275.

THE BAND — Members of the anonymous musical group who call themselves just "the band" are most comfortable in the rustic surroundings that Woodstock affords. Here, they are bassist Rick Danko, drummer Levon Helm, keyboard man Richard Manuel, organist Garth Hudson and guitarist Robbie Robertson. The group will appear in concert here Friday night at the Community Concourse.

ART - MUSIC - THEATRE

Marx Film Set Tonight

Grossmont College will continue its Classic Comedy Series with the Marx Brothers in one of the most complete feature length comedies ever filmed when "A Night At The Opera" is screened to night in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

The comedy will be shown at both 3:30 and 7 p.m.

In this film satire on pomp surrounding grand opera, Groucho, with dubious assistance from his brothers, crosses the ocean with an Italian opera company and contrives to get two young singers a break.

Their best foil, dowager Margaret Dumont, is a patron of the arts.

"A Night At The Opera" reaches its climax with a scene in the opera house during which the Marx Brothers run mad trying to break up the performance through such antics as swinging from rope to rope so the scenery changes wildly and switching sheet music from "Il Trovatore" to "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

The public is invited to see the Marx Brothers in one of their best and funniest feature length films. There is no admission charge. Doors will open at 3 and 6:30 p.m.

It's 'Big, Important Secret'—The Band

The Band, a hard group to write about but easy to listen to, is coming to San Diego Friday night.

They'll appear alone at the Community Concourse at 8 p.m.

The Band is difficult to capture on paper because they are at the same time so simple and yet so complex.

Their music is borrowed from countless elements of country, old '50's rock, gospel, mountain streams, Canadian winters, backwoods minstrels, and Dylanesque imagery and is fused with the cement of nearly 10 years as a musical unit.

But, words aside, all the group is really about, is making music. That's what they love, that's what they're here to do and that's what they're best at.

Suffice to say that the group that has produced "Music From Big Pink" will be in town to play their music.

Music is a whole other level, anyway, or as Paul Krassner put it to Bob Dylan — "I feel as if there was a big secret that everybody was in on, only I couldn't understand how important it was."

Dylan could understand because it was music that brought him and the band together.

Stories had it that Dylan phoned the band before making a 1965 tour and requested that they play the Hollywood Bowl as a back-up group.

Robbie Robertson, the group's guitarist, had never heard of Dylan, but agreed.

Dylan was in the process of turning from acoustic to electric sounds and many of his fans felt he was selling out to a cheap, rock 'n' roll sound. Small matter that his songs were unchanged.

The resentment Dylan encountered on the tour was directed at the band and the group was booed, not for their musicianship but for their very presence that threatened the audience's security.

Robertson, the aforementioned guitarist, can double on bass and writes a large share of the group's material. All by himself, he penned "The Weight" the song with the biggest impact recorded by the boys so far.

Richard Manuel plays piano and switches onstage to drums when regular drummer Levon Helm picks up his mandolin.

Garth Hudson, organist, is fingered by the others as the best musician of the group. Rick Danko, bass, can also double on acoustic guitar and other instruments. Danko, Manuel and Helm handle most of the vocals, although Robertson can carry the load, too.

Century Travel and Photographic Club has scheduled two special color film presentations in February. Both shows are open to the public and will be presented in the Photo Arts Building, near Spanish Village in Balboa Park.

Sunday, February 1, a film of the Sea of Cortez, plus other areas of Mexico, will be shown at 2:30 p.m.

Tuesday, February 3, Dr. O. D. Nelson is presenting beautiful colored slides, "Wild Flowers of Southern California," at 7:30 p.m. A special added attraction will be spectacular night shots of San Diego County Christmas displays. Narration will be presented by June Ward of Suburban Toastmistress Club.

For additional information regarding either of these tours, call the Club secretary, Mrs. L. J. Slaughter, at 283-1320.

French Violinist, Symphony To Play Beethoven

The renowned French violinist, Christian Ferras, will appear with the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Thursday and Friday, Jan. 22 and 23, as the orchestra's winter season resumes after the forced cancellation of one pair of concerts.

Ferras, who made his American debut in 1959 with the Boston Symphony Orchestra will perform Beethoven's Violin Concerto in a program devoted entirely to the works of Beethoven. The orchestra, under the baton of Symphony Music Director Zoltan Rozsnyai, also will play the Second Symphony and King Stephen Overture.

Twice honored by Pablo Casals at the famed cellist's festival at Prades, Ferras was awarded the coveted Grand Prix du Disque four consecutive years and Time magazine called him "the most loudly acclaimed violinist to emerge from France since the late Ginette Neveu."

Curtain for both performances in San Diego's Civic Theatre will be at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the theatre's box office and at Mutual Ticket Agencies throughout San Diego County.

The performances Jan. 22 and 23 and three children's concerts set for this Saturday (Jan. 17) mark the end of a six-day stalemate between the orchestra's musicians and the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association.

Extra Show Booked For Comic Cosby

With the demand for tickets to his first Saturday night show far exceeding the supply, comedian Bill Cosby has scheduled a second performance at 10:45 in the Community Concourse Convention Hall.

Cosby, who will present his first concert at 8, will share the stage with vocalist Joe Williams, a singer whose credits include a long association with the Count Basie band.

Cosby's scheduling of a second Saturday night performance marks the fourth time in as many years that the lanky stand-up comic has been forced to stage a repeat show in the Convention Hall.

Currently seen Sunday nights in his own NBC-TV comedy situation program, Cosby has earned three Emmy awards for his earlier co-starring role in the "I Spy" television series.

Carol Johnson of 4215 Everts st. has recently been elevated to a semi-principal role. She formerly was in the corps de ballet.

The ice spectacular features many internationally renowned stars, lavish production numbers and a variety of comedy and novelty acts. It opened at the Arena Tuesday night.

Showtimes are at 8:30 p.m. through Friday; noon, 4:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. on Saturday; 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday.

'Playboy' Opens

Charles Riendeau and Kathleen Bishop are starred. Performances are nightly in the Balboa Park theatre-in-the-round except Monday. Curtain is 8 p.m. except Friday and Saturday, 8:30. A matinee, Feb. 8, is 2 p.m.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Want to take your own Spanish-speaking tour? There is a delightful way for you to spend your day. Enjoy the countryside and use Spanish phrases taken directly from this column.

Drive south on Highway 5 and even take a Greyhound bus to the International border. There is ample (50 cents) parking on the U. S. side. After walking through the border gates, enter the pedestrian ramp which crosses above the automobile traffic to the opposite side of the street.

There, you will be greeted by a local transit employee shouting "El centro, el centro" (downtown). He will direct you to the next "camion" (bus) being made ready for departure. Pay the driver 6 cents (U.S.) and he will give you a "boleto" (ticket) which entitles you to the ten-minute ride from the border line to the center of Tijuana.

After a visit to the shops and some sightseeing, return to the diagonal street behind the Hotel Nelson where you may board a bus marked "Linea" (Border). Obtain your "boleto" for the six cent return ride and arrive at the border within a few steps from the U. S. Customs Office.

People that ride the busses are friendly, courteous, and seem to welcome the opportunity to speak Spanish with the average "norteamericano." Today's practice phrases listed below may prove helpful in your tour. Try to say them with the recorded voice that repeats each word and phrase for you when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Cual camion va el centro?" (koo-AHL kah-mee-OHN vah ahl SEHN-troh) for "Which bus goes downtown?"

Say "Este, sube usted." (EH-steh SOO-beh oo-STEHD)

for "This one, get on."

USEFUL PHRASES:

Say "Adonde bajo yo?" (ah-DOHN-deh BAH-hoh yoh)

for "Where do I get off?"

Say "En el centro." (ehn ehl SEHN-troh) for "In downtown."

OTHER PHRASES:

Say "Va usted a la linea?" (vah, oo-stehd a lah LEE-nah)

for "Are you going to the border?"

Say "Si, voy a la linea." (SEE VOH-eh ah lah LEE-nah)

for "Yes, I am going to the border."

Jonathan Winters

Tickets are on sale at Civic Theater Box Office, all High-lander Stores and Metro Ticket Agencies. They're priced at $3.75, $4.75, $5 and $5.50. They go on sale Monday.

Exhibit Opens

Bright colored paintings, suspended tapestries and intriguing sculptures are among the many exhibits in the fall semester student art exhibit at Southwestern College.

Efforts of student creativity have been on display in the art exhibition room since January 13 and will continue for two weeks. Gallery hours are 10-2 Monday through Friday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings 6-10 p.m. and Sunday 1-5 p.m.

John R. Pittman, Gallery Director, described the creative and individualistic displays as "a symbol of the art students total involvement."

Involvement in current issues is one of the themes of the display. Everything from political satire to war protests can be seen as inspiration for the artists creativity.

Miguel Annual Said Excellent

Top award given school yearbooks by Columbia Scholastic Press Association for overall excellence was awarded to Mount Miguel High School on its 1969 MIL MEMORIAS.

The medalist award is a first place rating for books that score highest in national competition. Miguel's yearbook scored 957 out of a possible 1000 points.

Evaluation of the book rated coverage of the school's academic program, especially thorough and comprehensive. Treatment of the theme dramatizing a typical "Day In The Life Of" was praised as excellently handled.

The editor of the '69 MIL MEMORIAS, Wally Schlotter, is now a freshman at Grossmont College. Advisor Lowell Plinke commented "After ten first place awards from CSP, Mount Miguel finally broke the barrier in meeting the high standards required for Medalist rating."

On this year's staff are nine members of last year's staff; Doug Ailshie, Richard Block, Carol Bowers, Sherry Eberwein, Joe McCormack, Robert Farthing, Lisa Gale, Jeanette Mitchell, and Marlys Prodzinski. Editor of the 1970 MIL MEMORIAS, Sherry Eberwein, has high expectations of perpetuating Miguel's record.

January is National Egg Month.

Miguel Bookkeeper Retires After 13 Years

Goodbye is a hard word to say, especially to someone that you have worked with for 13 years.

But it sounds especially inadequate for Mrs. Mildred Berg, ex-bookkeeper at Mount Miguel High School, because of all the time and effort she has contributed to the school.

Mrs. Berg retired from her position as bookkeeper January 1, 1970, after being with the school since it opened in 1957. During this time she has been in charge of most of the financial matters at Mt. Miguel.

"I'm happy to be retiring, but I can't even begin to say how much I'll miss everyone." But Mrs. Berg will keep herself busy with her two favorite hobbies, needlework and gardening.

During her last day at Mt. Miguel, Mrs. Berg received a dozen red roses in appreciation of her 13 years of service, and was the honored guest at the Faculty Christmas Party, where she was presented with an orchid corsage from Melvin Grant, principal, and a poem written especially for her by English teacher, Mrs. Ellen Hall.

Taking over Mrs. Berg's position is Lois Johnson. Mrs. Berg worked together with Mrs. Johnson, so she would become familiar with the duties of the bookkeeper. This will be her first experience working in a school.

Child's Rights Talk Feature

If your son or daughter is "picked up" or detained by a police officer, what ensues? What are your child's rights? Will you be called?

If he or she is held at Juvenile Hall or sent to Las Colinas, what will be the procedure? What about his or her schooling? Will you be allowed to speak in court? If you can't afford a lawyer, what can you do?

These are the questions every mother and father needs to know. The children and youth need to know the answers too.

Gil Smith, referee of the Juvenile Court; Bruce Ferguson, deputy district attorney; and Charles F. Lee, principal of Juvenile Hall, Hillcrest Receiving Home and Los Colinas will be panel guests attempting to answer these and other important questions at the Ninth District PTA meeting, open to the public, to be held at 7:30 p.m., January 26, in the auditorium of the Chula Vista High School, 820 Fourth ave., Chula Vista.

In addition to the panel, materials will be on display in the areas of safety; juvenile protection; citizenship; disaster preparedness; Backyard Swim; human relations; international relations and recreation and conservation, all areas of interest of the PTA for many years, according to Mrs. John Appenzeller, director of public welfare, who has made arrangements for this meeting.

Awards Readied For A.F. Dinner

San Diego Area Chapter, The Arthritis Foundation, will hold its annual Awards Night Dinner, tonight at 7 p.m., at Catamaran Hotel, Mrs. Glen Hensley, chairman of the Board announced. Jonathan Dunn-Rankin, KFMB-TV, will be master of ceremonies.

Following dinner, officers and Board of Governors for 1970 will be elected.

Dr. J. Edwin Seegmiller, professor of medicine and director of the rheumatology division, UCSD School of Medicine, will be speaker.

America's tradition of providing for disabled veterans dates back to England, nearly two centuries before the United States became a nation.

Kiwanis Inducts Counselor

Harry Lashman, a counselor at Monte Vista High School, was inducted into the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club, when that group met Jan. 14 in the Banquet Room at Golden Bowl.

Lashman was officially welcomed and instructed by Frank Berger, a past president and past Lt. Governor, and was presented for membership by Bob Divine, vice principal at Monte Vista H.S.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Jim Anderson, a Spring Valley resident and Traffic Officer for the California Highway Patrol. He spoke on the "Ships at Sea" program, as sponsored by C.H.P.

Officer Anderson said the "Ships at Sea" program is set up to acquaint people coming back to Calif., via sea, of Calif. traffic laws.

He said during the time he has been associated with the program and spoken to various groups, he has made 11 trips to Hawaii, as well as Tahiti and Panama.

He said the program has been especially cooperative with men and officers of the Service, many of those in the Navy, as there are many ships which are ported in San Diego Harbor.

Officer Anderson, speaking on the dangers of driving cars, said airplanes are "grounded" during heavy fogs, many birds, such as seagulls refuse to fly during heavy fogs and other modes of travel come to a standstill, but a motorist, many a time, will take a chance and risk his life, when he should know the danger.

Speaking on "drinking and driving," Officer Anderson said it cannot be stressed too much, that if a person plans on drinking, to "do it with a lot of forethought." He said "if you must drive after drinking, let a Buddy drive, or take a cab home."

With approximately 13 million vehicles in California, you can see what a problem there is, and what it means to Law Enforcement Officers, Jim Anderson pointed out. Asked about helicopters in the C.H.P. service, Officer Anderson said two are being tested, and that they are desirable in emergencies. Asked also if something can be done about the noise of motorcycles, he replied "something is coming up on the subject."

Grady will be speaking on the operation of A.F.P., the program set up by the American Oil Company to patrol traffic, and persons in trouble in cars along the highways, the Patrol being operated by air and on the ground.

GOP Women Book John Schall

The La Mesa Republican Women's Club, Federated, will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, at the Bronze Room, 8998 La Mesa Blvd., La Mesa. The business meeting will be at 10:30, followed by luncheon.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Is Disabled Son Entitled to Benefits?

Q. My son has been deaf and blind since birth. He will be 18 next year. He and I have been receiving monthly social security checks since his father's death. Will we continue to receive our benefits after he is 18?

A. Since your son has a disability which occurred prior to age 18, you should contact your social security office about three months before his 18th birthday and file to continue his benefits as a person disabled since childhood. If it is determined that your son is eligible for continued benefits, you may also qualify for the benefits if you are caring for him at home.

Q. My mother is 84 and can no longer care for her personal needs because of her age. My brother and I are considering placing her in an extended care facility. If the facility participates in the Medicare program, will Medicare help pay her bill?

A. From the way you describe your mother's condition, she needs care solely to help her meet everyday needs. Medicare does not pay for this type of care.

Q. My wife is 53 years old and recently suffered a severe stroke. Our doctor says she will probably not be able to return to work. When should she file her claim for social security benefits?

A. She should file her disability application as soon as possible. This will permit the social security people to obtain necessary medical reports sooner, and thus speed up the processing of her claim.

Q. My mother just died. She was getting a social security check each month. Is there a lump-sum death benefit to help pay her burial expenses? If so, how much?

A. If your mother worked long enough under social security to become insured, a lump-sum death benefit may be made. The amount would vary between $165 and $255, depending upon her work contributions. If she was receiving benefits as a wife or a widow, then no lump-sum benefit is payable.

Swim Pool Sought By Jamul Leaders

A community swimming pool for the Jamul area was named as a definite goal by a group of over 40 residents who met in the Jamul Community Building Wednesday to discuss the proposal.

Skip Schmidt, assistant executive for the San Diego County Assessment District Formation Commission, was the principal speaker.

The first action by the group was to appoint a committee to develop the boundaries for a proposed taxing district.

When that is done they agreed to request the county to compute the tax rate that would be necessary to finance the building and operation of an Olympic-sized pool for the proposed district. The rate would be based on the assessed valuation within the boundaries developed.

Schmidt explained the formation of both special assessment districts and park and recreation districts within the county. A private swim club proposal was also discussed. A final decision as to which method of financing will be first attempted will be made after the tax-rate is determined.

The meeting was chaired by Don L. Freeman, member of the Jamul-Las Flores School Board. The group is sponsored by the Jamul Community Club, Bud Snively, president.

Mothers March For Charity

Some 10,000 mothers in San Diego County will participate in the March of Dimes march against birth defects Thursday (Jan. 29), reports Mrs. William Rees, Mothers March chairman for the fund raising campaign.

Mrs. Rees said that her co-workers have been planning the March for weeks.

"Their efforts have involved hours of time in blocking out areas to cover, checking addresses of home owners and apartment dwellers, preparing envelopes and taking care of the thousands of details that such projects entail," Mrs. Rees, a Point Loma housewife, commented.

She remarked that it has been gratifying in the past to see how unselfishly these women have worked at coordinating a major fund raising event. "I know the same will be true Thursday," she added. "I'm sure all of us are conscious of the great need served by the Mothers March."

Contributions are channeled into a nationwide network of more than 100 March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers, where research, education, patient care and community services are bringing new hope to the twin aims of prevention and treatment of birth defects.

Rockets In Houston For Telecast Here

Elvin Hayes and Lew Alcindor return to the Houston Astrodome tonight for the first time since their collegiate encounter there in 1968.

That contest saw a record 52,693 fans, the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game, cheer as the Hayes-led University of Houston, Cougars upset Alcindor and the UCLA Bruins 71-69 to snap a 47-game Bruin win streak. Tonight's contest between the San Diego Rockets and the Milwaukee Bucks is the feature attraction of an NBA doubleheader under the Dome which pits the Los Angeles Lakers against the San Francisco Warriors in the first game.

It also marks the first of a four game road trek for the Rockets who continue road action Saturday against the New York Knickerbockers in Madison Square Garden, move to Philadelphia on Sunday, to meet the 76ers, and wind up Tuesday (Jan. 27) in Los Angeles against the Lakers.

Tonight's Rockets vs. Bucks game will be telecast locally over KFMB-TV, Channel 8, beginning at 8:30 p.m. (PST).

Padre Tryouts Here Sat.-Sun.

The San Diego Padres will conduct a try-out camp for players between the ages of 17 and 22 who are not presently attending high school or four-year colleges.

Junior College players may participate, but not those who were drafted by a major league club in the January draft.

Peter Bavasi, director of minor league operations for the Padres, said that the free agent camp will be held Saturday and Sunday, January 24-25, starting at 10 a.m. at the Mesa Junior College diamond, 7250 Artillery dr., San Diego.

Supervising the try-outs will be Padre coaches Bob Skinner and Dave Garcia, director of scouting Bob Fontaine, scout Cliff Ditto, announcer and batting instructor Duke Snider and Bavasi.

Players must bring their own glove and shoes to the try-outs.

T-Shirt, Helmets On Padre Program

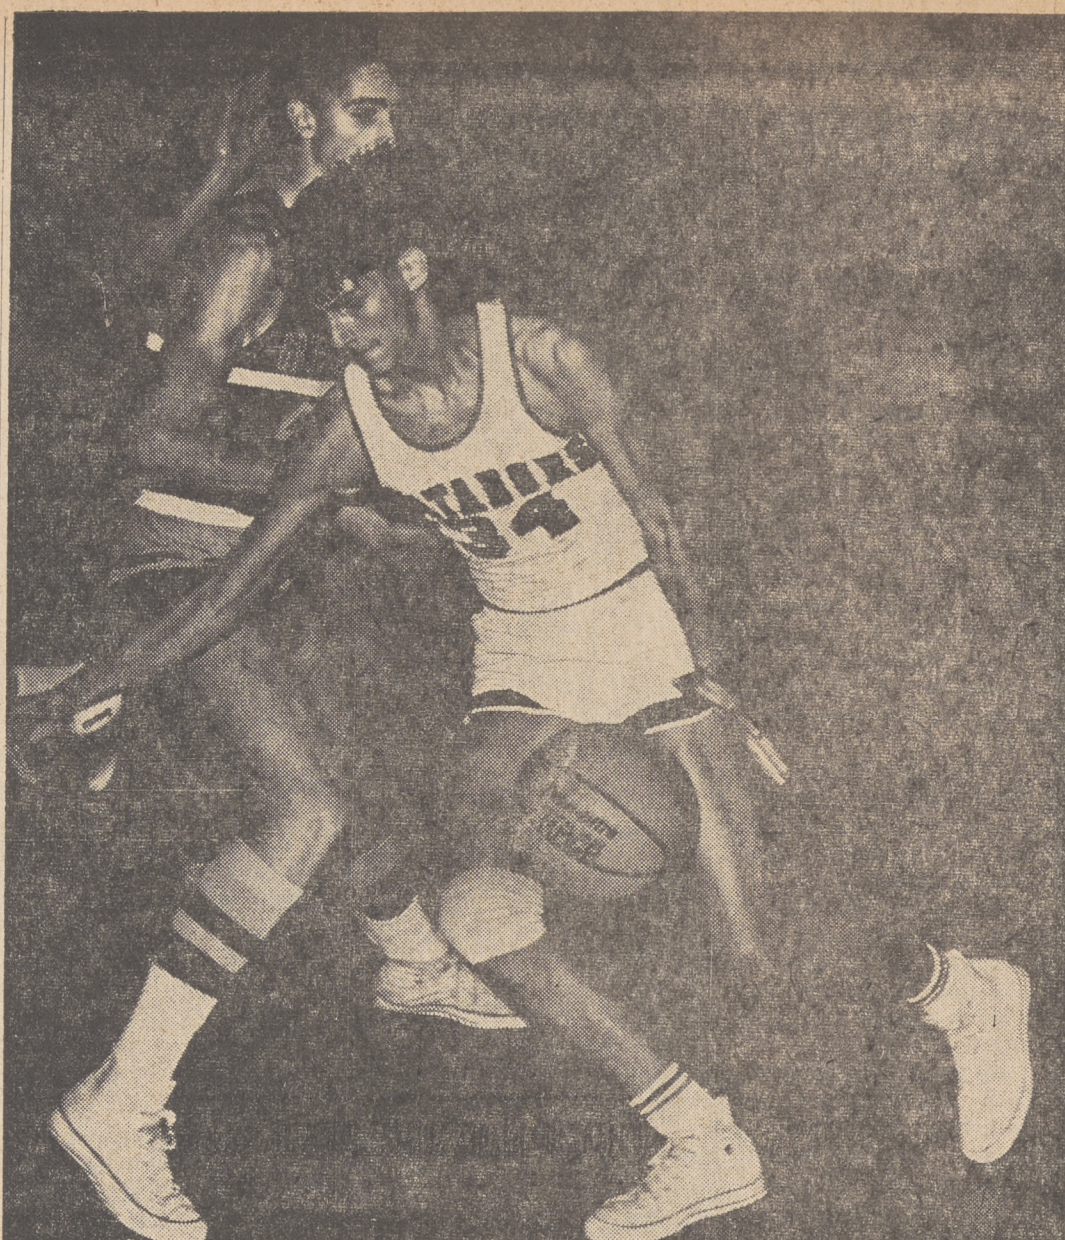

The Padres have announced several special events dates for the 1970 season.

Helmet Day is scheduled for Sunday, May 17 and T-Shirt Day is set for June 14, also a Sunday.

Harold Parrott, director of sales and promotions, also announced six special games when members of the Padres popular Little Swinger Club will receive free admission.

Those dates are May 2 and 15, June 19, July 18 and Aug. 9 and 28.

Membership in the Padre Little Swinger Club is $2 and entitles each youngster to a Padre baseball cap, a Padre T-Shirt, invitations to special clinics conducted by Padre players and free admission to the six games listed.

National Teams Set For Olympic Hockey Tourney

The 30th annual National Junior Olympic Hockey tournament will be held in San Diego April 3-5 at the International Sports Arena.

Alvin Strep, president of the San Diego Amateur Hockey Association, confirmed that Walter L. Bush, Jr., director of U.S.A.H.A. has awarded the tourney to San Diego.

It will be the first time in history the tournament will be played on the west coast.

Seven regional champions of the U. S. will participate. Seven teams and the San Diego host team will play 22 games in an elimination play-off.

ANNOUNCER — A Lemon Grove newsman, John DeMott, sports director for San Diego Station KCBQ, has been named Padre public address announcer, it was announced by general manager Eddie Leishman. DeMott, a member of the San Diego Sportswriters-Sportscasters Association, is a 10-year veteran of radio broadcasting. He has been the news director at Yuma station KIVA-TV and was a member of a sports committee which encouraged the Padres to locate their spring training in that city. DeMott is married and lives at 3860 Harris.

Monarchs Continue Comeback

Monte Vista High made a big step towards rejoining the Grossmont League basketball race Friday night by coming from behind to beat a good El Cajon team, 72-65.

The win gives the Monarchs a 2-2 league record, good enough for a tie for third place at this point.

Monte Vista dropped their first two league games to Helix and Santana and seemed headed for a disastrous season.

The first two teams in the league will advance to the playoffs at season's end. Helix of course will almost surely take one of those spots and rides high in the league with a 4-0 mark.

Santana, as of now, has an edge for the other spot. The Sultans also own a 4-0 league mark, but have two games remaining with Helix, two with El Cajon and a rematch with the Monarchs.

The Monarchs scored 49 points in the final half Friday night to overtake the Braves in an important win. They trailed, 31-23, at the half.

Bill Belander, as is his habit, led the scoring with 26 points, while Jim Bristol, with 13, John Kattli, with 11, and Bob Papciak, with 10, also broke into double figures.

Cajon's scoring was balanced too. Mike Geddes and Mike Grover shared honors with 15 apiece, while Bill Matzen tossed in 13 and Sean Barrett, 12. High-scoring guard Dean Owens had an off night, scoring six points.

Little League To Register

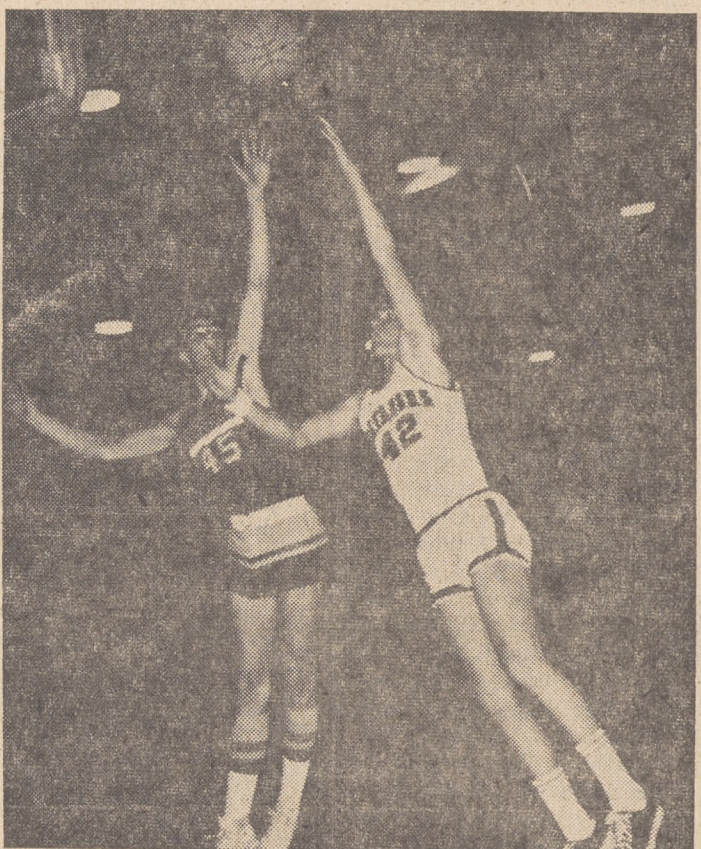

Registration for the Valley de Oro Little League will be taken at a Central Meeting at Spring Valley Junior High, February 17 at 7 p.m.

Three items are required for registration. They are:

1. A registration card, filled out and signed by a parent. The cards are available at Caldwell's Cyclery, Jamul General Store, fire stations within the league's boundaries and at the meeting.

2. Certified copy of birth certificate.

3. A donation of $4 to help cover cost of insurance, cap and league — furnished equipment, including uniform. Maximum of $10 per family.

Mats Break Slump; Slater Scores 31

Mt. Miguel's basketball team played the first game of next season Friday night.

The Matadors, a young team, scored their first league win in downing Granite Hills, 69-56 on the winners' floor.

Miguel, the county's best team only two years ago, is rebuilding with a young lineup.

The quintet had experienced little success this season, winning one of 13 previous encounters, but have given signs last week that maturity is soon coming.

The Matadors lost by a basket to Grossmont on Tuesday and then found the win formula in the Granite Hills game.

After trailing, 15-13, after the first period, Miguel went on a rampage and outscored the Eagles, 23-9, in the second quarter.

Leading, 36-24, after intermission, Miguel added a point to their eventual margin by outscoring the Eagles, 33-32, in the final half.

Junior forward John Slater, 6-3, led the Matadors with 31 points. He's averaging 24.3 points per game in four league contests.

Guard Mike Bruner, a sophomore, and forward Gary Russ, a junior, scored 10 points apiece. Another top prospect is Tom Young, a junior forward. Usually in double figures, he scored six points Friday night.

Those four, plus sophomore guard Tim Miller, will provide the nucleus for what Matador coach Dick Ridgway hopes might be another winner. Mark Ricketts, a tough center, is the only senior that logs much playing time.

The win enabled Miguel to escape the league cellar. They're now tied with El Capitán for sixth place, both sharing 1-3 marks.

Granite Hills lost their fourth league game to claim sole possession of eighth place.

Playing without standout Tim Doerr, the Eagles were led by guard Jeff Riolo, with 15 points. Guard Bob Wilkinson added 13, while Gene Skoglund put in 12 for the Eagles.

Scots Take Grossmont; Win Streak Reaches 35

Helix High's basketball team has been establishing themselves as the best county team in history and now they're in the process of entering themselves in the record books to that effect.

The Highlanders beat Grossmont, 97-74, Friday night for their fourth league win without a loss, a 19-0 season mark and their 35th consecutive win stretching over two seasons.

The consecutive win streak ties the county mark, held by a Mt. Miguel team in 1967-68.

In addition, Helix center Bill Walton, said by some scouts to be the best player in county history, is nearing the seasonal scoring record.

The seven-footer dumped in 37 points Friday night, leaving his average at 29.5 per game. He's scored 560 points in 19 games and needs 215 points to eclipse the scoring mark.

If his average is anywhere near the 29.5 he's maintaining now, he'll also set a new standard in that department. The current standard is 25.1 for a full season, set last year by Bonita Vista deadeye Paul Halupa.

The Highlanders themselves are pulling away from other county teams in total statistics. The Scots are averaging 82.8 points per game, well ahead of the second place team, while the defense allows just 53.2 points per game against one of the roughest schedules in the county.

Helix scored at an even rate in the Grossmont contest and the Foothillers just couldn't keep up.

The Highlanders started with a 23-21 advantage after the first period, but raised that advantage to 47-40 at intermission.

They finished with a pair of 25-point quarters to put the game away. The Hillers could only put in 34 points after the half.

Walton, besides scoring his 37, pulled in 21 rebounds and dominated play on the floor, intimidating potential action near the basket.

Guard Mike Dupree hit 12 of 22 shots from the floor and finished with 27 points.

Forward Dan Coleman added 14 and Butch Paddock dropped in eight points. Helix as a team shot 58 per cent from the floor and added 13 of 19 from the foul line.

The Highlanders 4-0 league mark is good only for a tie for first place with Santana. The deadlock figures to be resolved when the team clash Tuesday.

El Cajon, Monte Vista and Grossmont are tied for third with 2-2 records.

Golden Bowl Standings

A new league has made its appearance on the "boards" of Golden Bowl lanes — "Las Vegas League," bowling initially last week and turning in some close scores. CHUCKIN' SPORTS

Brawn and Talent Needed To Win in Pro Contests

By Chuck Curtis

It may not have been the battle of the century and it didn't pit Joe Frazier against Cassius Clay, but the past week has seen one classic battle.

I refer to the personal battle waged between the bug and your editor. For several days I would have been willing to bet on the bug. My throat was raw and I was torn by coughing spells.

Such was the extent of my discomfort that for the past week I have gone directly home from work to bed. I didn't even attend any of the Rocket basketball games or the Gull hockey games during the past week or so.

Perhaps it is just as well since the last outings saw both the Gulls and the Rockets roughly handled.

In both cases it looks like a matter of muscle to this editor. The Gulls don't seem to body check like their opponents. I admit to being a novice in the sport of hockey, but it has been my observation that opponents of the Gulls make frequent and effective use of body checks and rough stick work as soon as the Gulls get hold of the puck.

The Gulls, on the other hand, fall back until their opponents are within shooting range of the Gull goal before they begin to body check.

Another point I noticed. When an opponent attacks the Gull net there is invariably one or more of their players in the area in front of the net so they can pounce on any deflected puck and get a second or even a third shot.

This has seldom been the case when the Gulls attack. It seems to this editor that the Gulls never have a man in the slot in front of the net. The result is that of most their attacks are one-shot and fall back on defense.

With the Rockets the problem seems similar. Up front the Rockets offer small men, Stu Lantz, Art and Bernie Williams. When they are pitted against teams like Van Arsdale and Goodrich, they just can't match physically.

Under the boards the situation is the same. Other teams have their three big men under the boards.

With the Rockets the bulk of the board work is done by Elvin Hayes. When John Block, Bingo Smith or Jim Barnett are on the front line the rebounding is far from aggressive.

When Toby Kimball and John Q. Trapp are on the line there is a noticeable difference.

Smith is a first-year man and has a lot to learn. He has shown flashes of brilliance by lack of consistency. Bingo can jump and is muscular enough, but lacking in experience.

Barnett just isn't beefy enough to hold his own with the big men in the league.

Kimball has all the tools but has been plagued by a knee injury that has slowed him considerably.

Trapp, a second year man, puts up a good fight and is, to this editor, interesting to watch. His potential has barely been scratched and he can develop into one of the best.

John Block is the veteran of the front line troops, but looks lost when the going is fast and furious. John is one of those ball players who spends half his time wrapped in adhesive tape. He is accident prone with his fingers and knees the prime targets. John has a good touch and a lot of good moves but looks like he tires very swiftly when the going is tough.

Needless to say Don Kojis is missed on the Rocket front line. Pat Riley is months behind due to his injury and Rick Adelman has been on the injured list more than the active list this year.

Since Alex Hannum took over as coach of the Rockets they have been playing much more exciting basketball, but without the horses there is little even a fine coach like Alex can do.

When the professional football season opened last fall I expressed amazement at the manner in which the Charger fans booed John Hadl. I have known John since his high schools days in Lawrence, Kansas and knew him to be a fine competitor, therefore it was hard for me to understand the attitude of the crowd.

When the season ended John was going strong and the Chargers were a match for any team in the league.

Saturday John played on and captained the AFL South team. Not only did he set up one touchdown by carrying the ball to the one-yard line, and pass to Lance Alworth for another as he led the team to an easy victory, but he was named Most Valuable Player in the game.

For those fans who booed early in the year, I hope this has shown them that every time a team loses, it doesn't follow that it is the fault of the quarterback.

Coryell Speaker For Big Brothers

San Diego State College football coach Don Coryell and San Diego Big Brothers—who have been brightening the local scene in separate spheres since 1961 — will team up on February 17 for the Big Brothers Recognition Dinner.

Coryell will be main speaker at the annual banquet that will be the first local event held in the new Town and Country Hotel convention center.

The dinner will honor outstanding supporters of the local program that provides adult male companionship for fatherless boys.

Among presentations to be made is the Community Award for service to Big Brothers, won last year by San Diego Chargers General Manager Sid Gillman.

Big Brother and Little Brother of the year also will be introduced and will tell what the program has meant to them.

The dinner is open to the public. Ticket information can be obtained from the Big Brothers office, 234-9158.

Griff Relayers Qualify for Meet

Grossmont College' mile relay team qualified recently for the scheduled San Diego Indoor Games in February.

The Griffin quartet, including Rick Hartegan, Randy Provinzano, Roy Gayhart, and Rob Barnett, placed second in Mesa College in 3:26.2, in competition at San Diego State College's Sportsman track.

Hartegan and Barnett were members of the Helix High mile relay team last year. Provinzano, Roy Gayhart, and good relay runner for Mt. Miguel High last spring, Gayhart is a sophomore and is also a Helix product.

The San Diego Indoor Games are set for the Sports Arena, Friday, February 20.

Rockets Set Ball Night

The second "Ball Night" of the 1969-70 basketball season will be held Wednesday, as the San Diego Rockets return home to battle the Los Angeles Lakers in an 8 p.m. contest.

All youths, 14-years-and-under, accompanied by an adult, will receive a Rockets basketball upon admission to the Arena.

Children receive $1 off on all $4 reserved seats, $75 off on all $3 seats, and may purchase $2 general admission seats for only $1.

Aztecs In Non-league Encounter

San Diego State's basketball team will enjoy a rest from the Pacific Coast Athletic Association this weekend as it has a single encounter on tap this Saturday night at 8 p.m. at Cal Poly in Pomona.

This past weekend was one of mixed emotions for Davis and his Aztecs as they split a 2-1 record in their non-league encounters. State opened the trip with a 90-69 triumph over Cal State Los Angeles, but then succumbed 62-59 to the following evening to UC Santa Barbara. The split left SDSU with a 1-2 conference record and an 8-6 overall mark.

The Aztecs got a couple of bright games from Mike Spilger and John Borchert. Spilger hit a career high of 27 points in the Cal State LA game and then added 13 more against UCSB.

Davis was also happy with the showing of John Skalecky. "John was really pleased with John's play," commented Davis. "He played the type of game that doesn't show up in the box score. He hit 11 points in the LA game after coming off the bench, but the key factors were his passes, his handling of the plays we ran and his defensive play."

Grossmont Resumes Winning

Although January 1 was nearly three weeks ago, the new year arrived a little late for the Grossmont Griffins. The old year of bad passes, poor defense, and losing basketball games ended hopefully January 10, when San Bernardino handed Grossmont its second straight Mission Conference defeat, and pushed the Griffins to the bottom of the seven team league.

The Griffins, with seven veterans back from a team that had won only ten games all last year, vowed to reverse the trend, and restore some of the winning tradition that has marked Grossmont team in past seasons.

If the last two games are any indication, this is exactly what Grossmont has done, as the Griffins walloped Chaffey 109-78 on Wednesday, and came back Saturday to hand powerful Riverside an 87-86 defeat in a game that was a heart-stopper all the way down to the final buzzer.

With Blake Mathews sidelined with a sprained ankle, two other Griffins, Gary Cadonna and Roger Landis, came up with outstanding efforts in filling the void left by the 5'10" sharpshooter from Mt. Miguel.

Palomar is 3-0 in conference play, with victories over Southwestern and San Bernardino, the two teams that have beaten Grossmont in Mission Conference action.

With the season exactly two-thirds finished, only Blake Mathews and Randy Hamilton have hit better than 50 per cent from both the field and the free throw line.

Blake has scored 87 field goals in 173 attempts for a little over 50 per cent, and leads the team with 73 of 90 free throws for 81 per cent. Randy has scored 77 times from the floor in 144 attempts for a team high 53 per cent, and is 28 for 44 from the charity line for 64 per cent.

Bobby Sox To Register

SPRING VALLEY — Registration for the Spring Valley Bobby Sox League will begin January 28.

The first registration date is Wednesday, at Bancroft Elementary School Auditorium from 6 to 9 p.m.

Scheduled for registration dates also are January 31 at Spring Valley Shopping Center from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and again February 7 at Bancroft.

Bobby Sox Field from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Girls from 9 to 14 years of age are invited to register for the new season. Birth certificates will be required at time of registration.

Managers, coaches and sponsors are still needed. Anyone interested in working with these girls for the coming season may contact president Giles Baldwin.

Dimes Tourney Set Friday

Golfers from many of San Diego County's fine courses will compete in the annual March of Dimes Golf Tourneys, beginning January 23.

The fund-raising tourneys are slated for January 23, 24, 25, 30, 31 and February 1.

Individual trophies will be awarded to the low net scores for men and women at each club participating. Entry fee is $1.

This money plus the $1 entry fee will go to the March of Dimes fund.

The VA helps to train nearly half of all the doctors who graduate from medical school.

(La Mesa Country Club Zoning District)

Scots Get Record; Win Streak is 36

Helix High established themselves, on paper at least, as the best basketball team in county history Tuesday afternoon.

The Highlanders ran their consecutive win streak to 36 games with an easy, 89-32 romp over Granite Hills and surpassed the record of 35 wins first set by Mt. Miguel's great team in 1967-68.

The win also was Helix' fifth without a loss in league play and boosted their season record to 20-0.

The Highlanders were never headed in their record quest. After the first period, they were ahead 20-6 and breezing.

Bill Walton, the seven-foot center, had trouble getting the ball from teammates, but Scottie coach Gordon Nash worked substitutes into the lineup as 12 players hit the scoring column.

At intermission, Helix was ahead, 47-16 and still pulling away. They outscored the Eagles, 24-7, in the third quarter, and 18-9 in the fourth.

Although Walton scored only 15 points, Helix was hot. As a team, they got down 38 of 72 shots for 55 per cent.

Guard Mike Dupree scored 26 points to lead the Highlanders, while the only other to break into double figures was Randy Madsen with 11. Dan Coleman scored 8 points, and Mike Hanz, 7.

A Highlander half-court press completely shut off the Granite Hills attack, allowing the Eagles only nine field goals. Guard Jeff Riolo was their high-point man, with 11 points. The Eagles missed their high-scoring guard, Tim Doerr, out with a sprained ankle. Doerr had been scoring at a 24.3 clip.

Monte Vista meanwhile, won their third game in a row after a pair of opening losses to boost themselves nearer playoff contention.

The Monarchs dropped Grossmont, 74-56, behind the hot hands of Bill Belander and Gary Earle.

Belander scored eight and Earle seven in a fourth quarter surge that did the trick. Belander wound up with 21 points, while Dan Heien had 14 and Jim Bristol 12.

Santana kept right up with Helix, boosting its record to 5-0 with a 57-24 win over a Mt. Miguel stall.

Miguel tried a slow-down offense but it only resulted in few points for the Matadors.

At intermission, the Sultans led, 25-8.

Free Drug Treatment Readied For Minors

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors cut the red tape on Monday and voted to give free drug treatment to minors under the age of 18 at Mental Health Clinics and University Hospital.

Chief Administrative Officer Fred Morey told the board that there was some evidence that a youngster might ask for treatment, but then be turned off by the tedious eligibility determinations involving the ability of the family to pay for the service.

The action was for a six month trial period.

Morey said he had discussed provisions of the Lanterman-Petrig-Short Act, concerning medical treatment rather than arrest, with county-state-city law enforcement officers.

The board also authorized

County Health Director J. B. Aske to initiate a 24-hour telephone information and referral service.

Aske said the service will be started when his drug education unit moves into a building at Fifth and Olive in San Diego.

The service would provide information on drugs, marijuana, heroin and other narcotics, and would be able to tell parents or drug abuse victim where they could go for emergency treatment.

Supervisor Jack Walsh suggested that the last four numbers of the special line match the initials of the county's program — DEFY — Drug Education for Youth.

Dental Week Set

The Board of Supervisors has issued a proclamation calling on all San Diego county residents to join in the 22nd annual observance of National Children's Dental Health Week from Feb. 1 to 7.

Noting that the future, in large measure, is dependent on the good health of our children and youth, they also urged all community organizations to take an active part in the San Diego County Dental Society-sponsored celebration.

Pines Drive Is Extended

Ed Butler, chairman of the Torrey Pines Extension Campaign, said that over $100,000 had been raised in the last three months. He said that the drive to extend the Torrey Pines Reserve is still in full swing, and that contributions are continuing to come in from individuals from across the county.

Butler reported that over $700,000 in land contributions, pledges, cash and improvements have been raised to this date in an effort to match the $900,000 voted by the State of California for the extension of the Torrey Pines State Reserve.

"Because the campaign is going so well, the deadline to raise the remaining $200,000 has been extended to February 28, and I am confident that when individuals, and in particular San Diego businesses realize how close we really are, that they will come through to make this campaign achieve a successful completion.

Kenya's Keino Tops Indoor Field Meet

Kenya's fabulous Kipchoge Keino, the Olympic Games "metric mile" champion, is coming to San Diego to headline the field for the fourth annual San Diego Indoor Games.

The meet will be combined with the San Diego Indoor C.I.F. Championships at the International Sports Arena Friday evening, Feb. 20.

Keino, who is probably track's most glamorous figure today, will be making his initial San Diego appearance. But he is well remembered by Border City track fans for running America's Jim Ryun into the ground in the finals of the 1500 meters.

Kip won by an amazing 20 yards, his margin being so large it looked as if he were in one race and the other 11 finalists in another.

The winning time of 3:34.9 set an Olympic Games record and was considered by many experts, including Track and Field News Editor Bert Nelson the equivalent of a better-than-3:50 mile.

Keino came to San Diego Tuesday to meet with press and radio-TV.

Two August Games On Charger Sked

Fran Tarkenton, Fred Dryer and the New York Giants will face the San Diego Chargers in a pre-season game at San Diego Stadium on Saturday night, Aug. 15, the Chargers announced.

The game, first between the clubs, will pair two of last season's strongest finishing teams. The Chargers (8-6) won their last four in a row. The Giants (6-8) won three in a row, the finale over the Cleveland Browns, 27-14. New York had started the year by defeating NFL champion Minnesota, 24-23.

Famed for his prowess as a scrambler, Tarkenton was the third leading passer in the National Football League. He completed 53.8 of his tosses for 2,918 yards, 23 touchdowns and but 8 interceptions. Veteran halfback Joe Morrison and swift end Homer Jones were the Giant's leading receivers with 44 and 42 catches respectively.

The Giants are the second pre-season opponent announced by the Chargers. San Diego will open 1970 against the Dallas Cowboys on Aug. 8.

George Smith's Hat In Ring For Sups Job

George Walker Smith, president of the City Board of Education, announced his candidacy to the County Board of Supervisors seat for the Fourth District now held by DeGraff Austin. Austin, 74, has said he will not seek reelection to the Board. His present term expires in January 1971.

GEORGE WALKER SMITH

If elected, George Smith, 40, will be the first Negro Supervisor on this county's governing Board. Seven years ago he became the first Negro to be elected to the education board, and was re-elected to a second four-year term on the Board of Education in 1967. Smith's school board trustee term expires in December 1971. He said he will resign from that post if elected to the County position.

Smith, a Republican, is the second declared candidate for the supervisorial seat. The first to announce was Ronald K. Fuller, 31, also a Republican, former special assistant to County Supervisor Henry Boney.

The primary election for the non-partisan position will be June 2. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast in the district, the top two candidates will face each other in a runoff election in the district November 3. The winner would not take office until January 1971 unless Austin decides to retire sooner.

Persons eligible to vote are those living in the Fourth District, which includes Serra Mesa, Mission Hills, Hillcrest, Downtown San Diego, Southeast San Diego, Encanto, Lomita, Village and National City.

George Smith is pastor of the Golden Hill United Presbyterian Church, 2130 Market st., which he organized on his arrival in San Diego in 1956. A native of Hayneville, Alabama, Smith was graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from Knoxville (Tenn.) College and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

In addition to his pastoral duties and his post as president of the City Board of Education of the San Diego Unified School District, Smith is also a member of the Board of Directors of the National School Board Association. He is presently serving as a member of State Health Review and Program Council, a post to which he was appointed in 1969 by Governor Reagan.

Smith is also a member of the Executive Board of Great Cities Research Council, a national organization of twenty of the largest school districts in the United States.

District Campaign Headquarters Open

A campaign headquarters at 208 Van Houten ave., El Cajon, was officially opened Tuesday, to launch a citizens group drive for a Yes vote in the March 3 special election of the Grossmont Hospital District.

Presiding at the brief ceremonies will be Auren M. Pierce, general chairman of the Citizens Expansion Committee of Grossmont Hospital. Interested residents within the East County district are invited to attend and to receive information regarding the hospital's planned improvement and expansion program, Pierce said.

The 730-square-mile district includes El Cajon, La Mesa, the Lake Murray-San Carlos area of San Diego, a portion of Del Cerro, and the communities of Lemon Grove, and Spring Valley, among others.

The hospital district is seeking voter approval to form a joint powers agency with the County of San Diego to finance a six-story, 126,500-square-foot addition.

Project Concern Walk Sponsors To Give $170,000

Project Concern, Inc., hopes to raise $170,000 for its medical relief and self-help programs through the Feb. 7 Walk for Mankind in San Diego County, according to Dennis Lang, county walk chairman.

Lang noted that the figure is based on the anticipated participation of some 20,000 persons in walks planned for Chula Vista, El Cajon, Escondido, Oceanside and Mission Bay Park. None is planned for Lemon Grove or Spring Valley.

He appealed for walk sponsors who agree to pay a walker a specific amount for each mile completed of the established walk route. No one is allowed to walk without a sponsor.

The sponsor and walker sign an agreement prior to the walk, and during the week following the walk, the walkers will contact their sponsors to collect the amount earned.

Anyone who is interested in sponsoring a walker, but is not contacted can call the Walk for Mankind Office, 234-1871, or the high school in their area, he said.

Employable Men Relief Dropped

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — An unknown number of employable men are going to be kicked off the rolls of general relief in this county.

County Supervisors on Monday supported the statement that henceforth males capable of working cannot get emergency aid or general relief from the county.

The county controls general relief because the county taxpayers pay the entire bill.

Detrich told the supervisors that at present trends, the $680,000 budgeted for general relief would be overspent by $600,000.

He said there is evidence that young men newly arrived in the county are on the role.

The edict will not effect single women, married couples, or families.
